

Play it Again: Hello, Little Girl

Hello Little Girl

HARRISON [spoken]

Good evenin', young lady.

RAVEENA [spoken]

Good-bye, Mr. Grant.

RAVEENA

Look at that moon
Round and cold
Yoo-hoo, Mr. Wolf...

Stalking this goon
Sure gets old
Come here Mr. Wolf...

This one's especially tough
Lovely ...

HARRISON

Come on, little girl,
What's your rush?
You're missing all the flowers,
The sun won't rise for hours,
Take your time.

RAVEENA

Mother said,
"Straight ahead,"
Not to delay or be misled.

HARRISON

But slow, little girl,
Hark and hush,

The birds are singing sweetly.
You'll miss the birds completely,
You're traveling so fleetly.

RAVEENA

Kill wolf man first,
Then those vamps
What an unusual evening
Oh, leave me alone you!
Can't you see I'm workin'?

HARRISON

One moment, my dear -!

RAVEENA

Mother said,
"Come what may,
Follow the path
And never stray."

HARRISON

Just so, little girl –
Any path.
So many worth exploring.
Just one would be so boring
And look what you're ignoring ...

Think of a drink,
Crisp and clean,
Then talk of nothing important,
Think of that freedom - so tempting, if
Just for one day-!

RAVEENA

There's no possible way.

I've got something to do,
And it AIN'T talking to you!

VEENA [aside]

Mother said

Not to stray.

Still I suppose a small delay ...

Veena would like a drink today ...

[to Harrison, spoken]

GOODBYE, Mr. Grant.

HARRISON

Farewell, little girl.

And hello ...

#dnd/chosen